PEER PLEASURE 2: Red76, Temporary Services and the Visible Collective

Terrace Galleries:

APR 1 - JUL 2, 2006

Peer Pleasure 2 showcases projects by a whole new set of artist groups working in the US that reflect an interest in forging community networks to distribute art, information and ideas. Interactive projects by Red76 (Portland and Chicago), Temporary Services (Chicago) and Visible Collective (New York), address a range of social and political issues, from life in the prison system, to the misrepresentation of Muslims in the media. Over the course of the exhibition, YBCA's galleries will be animated with interactive displays, impromptu lectures, and unique public events organized by each collective.

Red76 projects are conceived, most often, by Sam Gould, and fleshed out by a group of like-minded artists and thinkers including Matthew Yake, Khris Soden, Paige Saez, Jen Rhoads, Laura Baldwin, and others.

Temporary Services is Brett Bloom, Marc Fischer, and Salem Collo-Julin.

Visible Collective is directed by Naeem Mohaiemen. A rotating group of 17 members include Anandaroop Roy, Jeeyun Ha, Vivek Bald, Donna Golden, Shahed Amanullah, JT Nimoy, Aziz Huq, Anjali Malhotra, Sarah Olson and Kristofer Dan-Bergman. A full list of Collective members and allies are at www.disappearedinamerica.org.
